Earth Negotiations Bulletin
Post-2015 Development Agenda Negotiations,
High-Level Political Forum;
Preparatory meetings for & the Financing for Development Conference

Our mission is to:

increase transparency and accountability of intergovernmental sustainable development decision making.

The International Institute for Sustainable Development Reporting Services’ (IISD RS) flagship publication – the Earth Negotiations Bulletin (ENB) – fills a critical need to increase transparency and accountability in multilateral environmental treaty negotiations by bringing real-time information to decision makers in a publicly accessible format.

The International Institute for Sustainable Development (IISD) is seeking specific additional funding to support the publishing of the Earth Negotiations Bulletin (ENB), a reporting service for multilateral negotiations, from the following meetings of the: Post-2015 Development Agenda Negotiations; High-Level Political Forum; and Preparatory meetings for and the Financing for Development Conference scheduled to take place between January and September 2015. The Earth Negotiations Bulletin provides real-time information to decision makers and promotes transparency in multilateral policymaking, using the latest in information technologies. IISD also plans to continue tracking activities related to these processes and taking place in between these meetings. Short stories of these in-between events will be published on a daily basis to IISD’s related sustainable development knowledgebase.

IISD has already received contributions towards the estimated total budget for our coverage of the post-2015 development agenda and Financing for Development processes is US$439,039 and IISD is seeking the remainder of US$131,715.
In 2015 IISD RS will continue to:

publish the Earth Negotiations Bulletin.

& provide balanced, timely, objective and informative conference reporting.

The Earth Negotiations Bulletin will: create a level information playing-field at meetings • contribute to transparency in international negotiations • provide useful information to policy-makers and those interested in contributing to the policy development process • disseminate information on the activities of governments, NGOs and the United Nations at international meetings • provide real-time information to environment and development decision makers using new and emerging information technologies • contribute to the academic body of knowledge about these meetings • and maintain a trusted information flow to policy-makers on the activities of related negotiating processes.

The budget for the production of the Earth Negotiations Bulletin from the meetings of the Post-2015 Development Agenda Negotiations; High-Level Political Forum; and Preparatory meetings for and the Financing for Development Conference is listed in the below table. The budget to track and provide short stories to IISD’s related knowledgebases on the activities taking place between the aforementioned meetings is listed in the below table. This budget is further detailed on page 6.

This meeting budget includes the following items: honoraria for each team member; travel to and from the meeting, food and lodging; publishing and distribution costs of the hard copy and online daily and summary issues; office and production supplies; communication costs; and allocated costs.

The Grantee: the International Institute for Sustainable Development

To be sustainable, development must improve economic efficiency, protect and restore ecological systems and enhance the well-being of people. This is today’s agenda, not a far-off goal. It means that business as usual is no longer an option for government, private enterprises, communities or individuals.

The mission of the International Institute for Sustainable Development (IISD), a charitable, non-profit organization based in Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada, is to promote sustainable development in decision-making at the international and national levels. We contribute new knowledge and concepts, analyze policies, identify and disseminate information about best practices, demonstrate how to measure progress, and build partnerships to amplify these messages.

IISD was established in 1990 with continuing financial support from the Government of Canada, as provided through the International Development Research Centre, and the Province of Manitoba. It also receives revenue from foundations and other private sector sources. The institute is registered as a charitable organization in Canada and a 501(c)(3) tax-exempt, non-profit corporation in the United States.

IISD Reporting Services (IISD RS) is the division of IISD that publishes the Earth Negotiations Bulletin, a balanced, timely and independent report from multilateral negotiations on environment and development issues.

For more information on IISD and IISD RS, visit http://www.iisd.org and http://www.iisd.ca, respectively.

The Earth Negotiations Bulletin

The issue and its importance

Representation and participation in decision making requires access to information about the issues under discussion as well as knowledge about the process and context in which decisions are made. Informed decision-making contributes to better outcomes, and transparency builds in accountability and better implementation. Those involved in multilateral negotiations on environment and development issues need to access and analyze the information required to inform and influence decision-making processes. This is particularly challenging for both developed and developing countries in the rapidly evolving and expanding number of activities related to multilateral negotiations on environment and sustainable development. Trusted curators of knowledge are therefore increasingly important.

Since the 1992 Rio Earth Summit, IISD’s Earth Negotiations Bulletin (ENB) has filled a critical need by increasing transparency and providing objective and comprehensive reporting on multilateral negotiations on environment and sustainable development issues, which enables government delegations and other stakeholders to engage more fully in the decision-making process. In particular, the ENB benefits developing countries, some of whom face severe financial constraints in sending delegates to meetings, by providing a neutral and trusted source of information and analysis so that they are able to engage and participate effectively in the decision-making process.

Over 125,000 policy makers and stakeholders consider the Earth Negotiations Bulletin to be essential reading. The ENB has received high praise from diplomats, UN staff, government officials, NGOs, the business community, media and the academic community.

In addition to the Earth Negotiations Bulletin, IISD’s Conference Reporting activities include:

“For Hire” Conference Reporting Services: our “for-hire” conference and meeting reporting service available to clients who wish to hire IISD Reporting Services to provide reporting from their event.

Community Listservs: Moderated community announcement listserv for policy makers and practitioners involved with environment and sustainable development issues.

ENB On the Side: A companion product to the Earth Negotiations Bulletin that reports on side events held at large MEA events, such as conferences of the parties to MEA agreements.

Video reporting: the newest member of our suite of activities, we provide video summaries and daily wrap-up video reports from MEA and other meetings and events.

Linkages Update: a fortnightly publication with news on changes to our web site.
OVERVIEW OF PROJECT

IISD RS meticulously tracked the intensive work of UN Member States and the UN system throughout 2013 and 2014 to lay the groundwork for devising the post-2015 development agenda. During this period IISD RS followed the discussions of the Open Working (OWG) on Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), which held regular thematic sessions between March 2013 and February 2014, and sessions between March and July 2014. These discussions resulted in the OWG’s Outcome Document that proposes 17 sustainable development goals and 169 targets for consideration and eventual adoption by Member States during the September 2015 Summit. In preparation for this, a number of important international negotiations will take place during the first half of 2015.

IISD proposes to continue tracking the post-2015 development agenda process leading up to the September Summit. These will commence with intergovernmental negotiations on the SDGs in January 2015, with eight additional sessions scheduled between February and July 2015. During this period, Preparatory Meetings on Financing for Development (FfD) will lead up to the FfD Conference in July 2015, where world leaders will convene in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia to adopt a financing framework for the sustainable development priorities. Discussions at the FfD Conference will draw upon the findings of the Intergovernmental Committee of Experts on Sustainable Development Financing (ICESDF), which was tasked to evaluate and propose options for effective financing for sustainable development. The third Session of the High-Level Political Forum is scheduled to meet from 30 June to 3 July 2014 and is expected to explore the “review” component of the post-2015 development agenda.

Having provided an accurate, impartial record, as well as analysis of these complex, politically sensitive negotiations, IISD Reporting Services has contributed to the transparency of the processes and to wider awareness regarding the post-2015 process, and must continue contributing towards the post-2015 process in the same capacity.

The purpose of this project proposal

IISD proposes to provide a balanced, timely and objective information service from the meetings of the post-2015 development agenda and FfD process, sessions of the HLPF, and related activities that are scheduled to take place between January and September 2015.

This service will:

- raise awareness within the international policy community and media of the outcomes from this meeting;
- create a level information playing-field at the meeting;
- contribute to transparency in international negotiations;
- provide useful information to policy makers and those interested in contributing to the policy development process;
- disseminate information on the activities of governments, NGOs and the United Nations at this international meeting;
- provide real-time information to environment and development decision makers using the new and emerging information technologies;
- contribute to the academic body of knowledge about this meeting; and
- maintain a trusted information flow to policy makers on the activities of other related negotiating processes.

Proposed Outputs

THE EARTH NEGOTIATIONS BULLETIN

ENB is a one-page, double-sided publication that is distributed each day to participants at selected UN environment and development negotiations and disseminated via email, our website (www.iisd.ca), Facebook and Twitter.

IISD will publish daily reports and/or summary issues of the ENB from post-2015 development agenda and FfD process, and sessions of the HLPF to take place between January and September 2015. The summary issues will be published within 48 hours of the conclusion of each meeting, synthesizing the outcomes of the meeting. The summary reports will be posted and archived on our website and delivered through our email lists, Facebook and Twitter. The readership of ENB is estimated at 125,000 people worldwide.

DIGITAL COVERAGE: If IISD RS receives support for a digital editor, the Earth Negotiations Bulletin team will provide digital coverage on our website (http://www.iisd.ca/), including digital photos and links to official documents and other related websites.

KNOWLEDGE MANAGEMENT

IISD’s New York based knowledge management team will research, track and attend activities and meetings related to the post-2015 development and Financing for Development processes. This coverage will create a real time information stream on events and publications leading into the meetings listed in this proposal as well as key activities related to the development of the post-2015 development agenda. Short stories regarding these events will be published on a daily basis to IISD’s related sustainable development knowledgebase (http://sd.iisd.org/).

PROJECT BUDGET AND FUNDING

The budget for the production of the ENB from the meetings of the post-2015 development agenda and FFD process, sessions of the HLPF, and knowledge management coverage of related activities to take place between January and September 2015 is presented in the below tables. These figures include allocated costs.

Support Earth Negotiations Bulletin Coverage

The International Institute for Sustainable Development (IISD) is seeking funding from one or several sources in order to fund the Earth Negotiations Bulletin. The Grantee: IISD

The Earth Negotiations Bulletin has successfully raised funds over the last twenty years from more than forty donors. Initial funding in 1992 came from the Ford Foundation, Compton Foundation and W. Alton Jones Foundation, the Mott Foundation, the Swedish Ministry of the Environment, the Norwegian Ministry of the Environment, the World Bank, GREENWIRE, the Jenifer Altman Foundation, the Canadian Purple Martin Fund and WWF. Since 1994, the Earth Negotiations Bulletin has been funded by government ministries, United Nations agencies, intergovernmental and private organizations.

IISD has established three donor categories:

SUSTAINING DONOR (US$150,000 or more per year in a continuing relationship): The minimum contribution level to be listed in the ENB masthead as a Sustaining Donor is US$150,000 per year with a commitment to sustain that level. Sustaining Donors allow us to perform long-term planning for the sustainable future of this publication. Sustaining Donors are listed in the masthead of each daily and summary issue.

GENERAL SUPPORTER (more than US$50,000 per year): The minimum donor level for General Supporter is US$50,000. General Supporters are listed in the masthead of each daily and summary issue.

SPECIFIC SUPPORTER (more than US$10,000 per meeting): This level includes smaller contributions to support coverage of individual meetings and travel and per diem contributions from convention secretariats. Specific supporters are listed in the masthead of each daily and summary issue from that meeting.

Contact IISD for further information on contribution agreements, forms of payment, invoicing for information services, etc.:

Grace Mota, CA, IISD Treasurer and Chief Financial Officer, is responsible for all financial contributions (contracts and project accounting). Mrs. Mota will provide funds transfer information upon request and can be contacted at IISD via phone at +204.958.7709 or email at gmota@iisd.ca. IISD will provide all accounting and reports to the funder.
